Parents' Day Drew Record Crowd

Parents from all parts of northwestern Minnesota and eastern North Dakota declared the Fifteenth Annual Parents' Day celebration the most successful event of its kind ever held at the Northwest School. Good weather and excellent roads were important factors in the unusual attendance which exceeded 350, thus establishing a new record for parents' day meetings. Chief interest centered around the parents' day dinner, at which time the parents were guests of the students in the dining hall. For the first time the spacious dining room was filled to capacity with the honored guests.

The afternoon program drew much praise from the opening numbers by the school orchestra under the direction of Miss Constance Lane to the closing one-act play, "A Wedding," presented under the direction of Miss Dorothy Smith. Other numbers included selections by the girls' glee club, boys' glee club and mixed chorus under the direction of Miss Katherine Hennig, community singing, an address of welcome by Noel Hanson, Detroit Lakes; demonstration, "The Cost of Tractor Operation," by Harlan Pester, Crookston; demonstration, "Household Equipment," by Alvina Urbaniak, Argyle, and a style show under the direction of Miss Elsie Kingston and Miss Retta Bede. The play was regarded as one of the finest productions ever presented by Northwest School students. Characters included the bridegroom, David Anderson, Crookston; the best man, Willis Holland, Shelly; the bride, Lois Sargent, Crookston; a groomsman, Jerome Molacek, Ulen; the bridegroom's

WARBA POTATO SEED STOCK INCREASED

A large number of potato growers were disappointed last spring in not being able to secure seed lots of the new Minnesota potato seedling named Warba. Seed stocks of this variety have been very limited and it will require probably two more years to get the stock in sufficient volume to meet the needs of Minnesota growers. The first distribution made of this variety consisted of four pound lots sent to certified seed growers for planting in 1932. Warba growers have increased their seed stock from the original four-pound lot until now many have an acre or more this year. This acreage should produce seed in volume in 1935. According to T. M. McCall, horticulturist, the Northwest Station has approximately two acres of Warbas this year, seed of which will be distributed for 1935 planting.

The Warba potato is a hybrid produced by Dr. F. A. Krantz, veteran potato breeder of the Department of Horticulture, Minnesota Experiment station. The Warba was produced from a cross of a selected seedling and Bliss Triumph. The Warba is very similar in tuber type to the Irish Cobbler; it matures, however, in from ten to fourteen days less time than Cobblers. The vine is upright and sturdy, apparently

Impressive Home Coming Celebration

Another long-to-be-remembered Home Coming has passed into history. The weekend, which was filled with one impressive event after another, closed with a mammoth dance and party which drew the largest attendance in the history of the school.

Activities opened with a huge pep meeting on home coming eve. A regular downpour failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the Northwest School rooters who cancelled the outdoor parade and annual bonfire, but held their meeting in the school auditorium. Enthusiasm was at a high pitch for the Morris Aggies had just arrived with twenty husky players determined to capture the inter-school trophy. Helen Carlson, member of the advanced class, served as chairman of the pep meeting and introduced the various numbers. Brief addresses were given by Superintendent A. A. Dowell, Professor T.

M. McCall, chairman of the athletic committee, and Coach R. J. Christgau. Members of the advanced class who were to play their last home game the following day also spoke. This group included Captain Ralph Sheldon, Stanley Alseth, Edson Washburn, Torlief Boe, Paul Billberg, Gilbert Gunderson and Harry Tangen. The auditorium resounded with cheers led by Helen Carlson and Jerome Molacek, advanced; Morris Engelstad and Laura Hansen, seniors, and Martin Chilson and Ruth Lerud, juniors. Miss Katherine Hennig, accompanied by Miss Constance Lane, led in school songs.

A special assembly was held during the forenoon of home coming day un-

SECOND GENERATION STUDENTS ENROLLED

With each passing year an increasing number of second generation students are reporting for work at the Northwest School. At this time there are fourteen boys and girls whose parents are listed as former students. This record is most gratifying as it indicates the continued interest and loyalty of former students in the growth and development of their Alma Mater. Second generation students will not only aid in maintaining the high standards of the past, but assist in extending the influence of the "School of Service" throughout northwestern Minnesota.

Second generation students now in attendance include the following: Arnold Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aldrick Anderson (1910-12) of Drayton, North Dakota; Alton Arness, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Arness (1916) of Eldred; Arlo Bergh, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bergh (1910-12) of Hallock; Russell Cumming, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cumming, '12, of East Grand Forks; Morris and Earl Engelstad, sons of Paul and Olive (Larness) Engelstad, both graduates of the class of '16; of Thief River Falls; Marlys Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Hanson (Lily Berg, former employe; Henry 1908-10) of Fertile; Belva Holm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Holm (Christine Thoreson 1908-09) of Climax; Oliver Landsverk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arne Landsverk (1908-09) of Fosston; Genevieve Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morgan (Irene Slyter 1907-08) of Crookston; Alfred and Agatha Olson, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Olson (1907-08) of Beltrami; Russell Purath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Purath (Emma Schaper 1916) of Red Lake Falls, and Elfay Riopelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Riopelle (Belle Bergeron, teachers' training 1916) of Argyle.

mother, Margaret Lerud, Twin Valley; the bride's father, Selmer Johnson, Crookston, and the bride's aunt, Esther Haugo, Mahanomen. A large number of students were unable to find accommodation in the auditorium, which was practically filled with parents and other friends of the school.

Following the program, the group picture was taken on the main campus by John Benson, local photographer.

The parents then adjourned to the physical education building where members of the faculty, together with their wives, formed a receiving line and met all guests as they entered the building. The closing hours of the afternoon were devoted to an inspection of the home project exhibits and to a general get-together. Refreshments were served by Miss Retta Bede, assisted by members of the staff and student body. A large number of parents remained for the Hallowe'en party which was held in the physical education building during the evening.

KALLAL SUCCEEDS

S. A. ANDERSON

Mr. Victor C. Kallal has been appointed instructor in agricultural engineering and preceptor of Senior hall, thus succeeding S. A. Anderson who resigned to accept a position with the agricultural engineering extension division of Purdue University at Lafayette, Indiana. Mr. Kallal is a graduate of the University of Illinois, having specialized in agricultural engineering. In addition to an excellent scholastic record as an undergraduate, he served as student assistant during the past three years.

The work of the agricultural engineering department is especially important at the Northwest School due to rapid progress in mechanization and the adaptability of power machinery to the large fields and level land common to the Red River valley. Emphasis is placed upon gas motors, tractor construction, field machinery, farm shop, carpentry, blacksmithing and mechanical drawing. Mr. Kallal will devote the major part of his time to field machinery, tractor construction and farm shop.

ANNE SIMLEY TO ### PRESENT PLAY

As a special feature of the Northwest School lyceum programs, the Hamline Players of Hamline University, St. Paul, have been engaged to present a three-act play, "Tons of Money," in the school auditorium Saturday evening, Nov. 10.

The play is in the nature of a farce in three acts. It has met with unusual success on the road following two presentations in St. Paul, once at the Little Theatre, and again at Hamline University for the benefit of high school students.

The plot centers around a young man who has recently inherited a fortune. Due to extravagant living, his expenses finally exceed his inheritance. As a result, he decides to disappear, claiming death, and then returns in the person of a cousin who claims the inheritance. Complications arising out of other claimants leads to a thrilling end.

"Tons of Money" will be presented under the direction of Miss Anne Simley, former English instructor and coach of dramatics at the Northwest School. Miss Simley will be remembered by a large circle of friends scattered throughout the Red River valley, not only because of her superior dramatic productions, but because of her popular readings in the Scandinavian dialect.

SUCCESSFUL FOOTBALL SEASON

Football honors for the 1934 season in the Minnesota Agricultural School conference were divided among the Crookston, Grand Rapids and Morris schools. Surprising upsets made the season one of the most interesting in recent years.

The Northwest Aggies opened the season at Minot, North Dakota, where they were administered a 59-0 lacing by the Minot Teachers' college eleven. One week later the Aggies engaged the Grand Forks high school reserves in the first campus game of the season. The Grand Forks reserves replaced the Bemidji Teachers' reserves on the schedule when the latter squad found it necessary to cancel the game. The final score of the Grand Forks reserves game was 6-6.

The conference season opened Saturday, October 20, when the Morris Aggies came to the Northwest School campus for the annual game which was a feature of the Home Coming festivities on the Crookston campus. The Morris team was favored to win. A steady rain on the eve of the game, as well as the following day, failed to dampen the spirit and enthusiasm of students and faculty who were hoping that the Northwest Aggies would upset the dope and emerge victorious. In spite of the inclement weather, one of the largest crowds to attend a Home Coming football game was present. The rooters braved the rain to urge their team on to victory. Morris opened with a rush which brought the ball to the Crookston 8-yard line where the Northwest Aggies braced, and in four attempts the Morris men failed to put over a touchdown. When the Northwest Aggies obtained possession of the ball, Stanley Alseth dropped back behind his own goal in an attempt to punt his team out of danger. A slippery ball and muddy field caused Alseth to fumble, but he recovered the ball before being tackled behind his own goal. Morris gained two points on the play and the first quarter ended with the score: Morris 2, Crookston 0. In the second quarter, the Northwest team took the offensive and after obtaining possession of the ball on their own 40-yard line, carried the pigskin down the field for a touchdown. Some short passes interspersed with some beautifully executed off-tackle smashes and end runs gained the necessary yardage for the Northwest team. The score at the half stood: Crookston 6, Morris 2. Except for the closing minutes of the fourth quarter when Morris staged an offensive drive to threaten the Crookston goal, play throughout the second half was in midfield. Both teams played excellent ball and few fumbles were made during the game. By virtue of their victory, the Northwest School retained possession of "Ossie," the wooden pig which is the inter-school football trophy, for the fifth consecutive year.

One of the several upsets of the season was the 41-0 defeat given the Northwest Aggies by the North Central Aggies at Grand Rapids Saturday, October 27. The Grand Rapids eleven had things pretty much their own way throughout the entire game. The score at the half stood 27-0 in favor of Grand Rapids and in the second half the scoring continued until the North Central team ran up a total of 41 points. The victory was the first for Grand Rapids in the North Central-Northwest series, which began five years ago and gave the North Central team possession of the "little brown jug."

The final game of the season for the Crookston team resulted in a victory over the Park River Aggies by a 14-6 score. Christgau's men played the best game of the season in this contest. Park River was a pre-game favorite, having won all its previous games except a 0-0 tie with Grafton high. Offensively and defensively, the Northwest team clicked in excellent fashion. A new inter-school trophy was won by the Crookston team when they were awarded the "little red pig" which will serve as the football and basketball trophy between the two schools. No name has yet been selected for the pig which will occupy a place beside "Ossie" in the school trophy room.

The prize upset of the season was the victory of Morris over the Grand Rapids eleven by a 25-6 score. Grand Rapids had previously defeated Crookston by a 41-0 score after Crookston had defeated Morris by a 6-2 score. Pre-game dope made Grand Rapids a big favorite but the West Central team spilled the dope by emerging victorious. News of the Morris victory over Grand Rapids was hailed with joy on the Northwest Schol campus as it meant a triple tie for 1934 honors.

YMCA AND YWCA HOLD SUNDAY MEETINGS

Special Sunday evening programs are being held each week under the joint auspices of the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. This series of meetings opened with a sacred concert presented by the members of the music and English departments. Guest speakers who have appeared on these programs so far this fall include Reverend P. C. Sorenson of the American Sunday School union; Dr. C. G. Hohn, First Methodist church, Crookston, and Reverend R. M. Vordale, English Lutheran church, Crookston. Programs have also been presented by the students under the direction of Dorothy Smith, English instructor.

Officers of the Y.M.C.A. include Lester Lerud, Twin Valley, president; Noel Hanson, Detroit Lakes, vice president, and Jerome Molacek, Ulen, secretary. Esther Haugo, Mahnomen, is president of the Y.W.C.A., while Margaret Lerud, Twin Valley, is vice president, and Marie Johansen, Pitt, secretary-treasurer.

resistant to mosaic, sets a heavy crop of round, blocky, white tubers with pink eyes. The tubers run very uniform in size, but to make their maximum development should be grown on fertile soil.

WOOLERY JOINS ENGINEERING STAFF

Herbert M. Woolery has been appointed instructor in agricultural engineering to assist with the work in gas motors and field machinery during the current school year. This appointment was made necessary due to the heavy enrollment in the freshman and junior classes, and the desire on the part of a large number of students to specialize in this field. With the additional help, it has been possible to rearrange the teaching schedules and thus add to the efficiency of the work offered in this department. A. M. Foker is in charge of blacksmithing, carpentry and mechanical drawing; Victor C. Kallal, field machinery, tractor construction and farm shop, while Mr. Woolery will devote his time largely to gas motors and assist with tractor construction and farm shop.

H. M. Woolery

Mr. Woolery is a graduate of the agricultural engineering division of the University of Minnesota where he served for two years as laboratory assistant in gas engines. He was accompanied by Mrs. Woolery, formerly Juanita Brodt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Brodt of Fairmont, Minnesota. Mr. Brodt is a master farmer, while Mrs. Brodt has the honor of being one of Minnesota's leading master homemakers. Mr. and Mrs. Woolery are at home in Stephens Hall.

Mr. Woolery will devote his time largely to gas motors and assist with tractor construction and farm shop.

PEPSTERS PROMOTE SCHOOL SPIRIT

The Pepster organization has contributed much to the loyalty and enthusiasm of the student body since it was established during the 1932-33 school year. This group is composed of a girl and a boy from each class, each member serving from the time of appointment until graduation. Thus, an experienced group is always trained to assist in leading and directing school spirit and guarding campus traditions.

VALLEY DAIRYMEN SPONSOR MEMORIAL

Members of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association at their recent annual convention voted to sponsor a suitable memorial in honor of Dr. C. H. Eckles, former head of the Dairy Husbandry department at the University of Minnesota. Dr. Eckles was recognized as the foremost authority on dairy production in the United States. His outstanding work is being carried on by hundreds of former students who occupy prominent teaching and research positions throughout the country.

The idea back of the resolution was to initiate the movement, with the expectation that some state or national dairy organization would carry it through to a successful conclusion. One year ago the Red River Valley Dairymen's association sponsored a memorial in honor of A. J. McGuire, prominent leader in the field of cooperative marketing, and former member of the Agricultural Extension division and superintendent of the North Central Experiment station.

WORLD'S FAIR IS REVIEWED BY FACULTY

"A Century of Progress" was brought to the Northwest School campus early in the term when members of the faculty who had visited the World's Fair during the past season discussed the various exhibits and other outstanding features before the student body at the regular noon hour assembly. Elsie Mae Kingston spoke briefly of the architecture at the fair; Katherine Hennig discussed special music features. Constance Lane summarized the exhibits in the travel and transport building; R. S. Dunham, the Hall of Science; J. W. Mlinar, art exhibits, and T. M. McCall, the horticultural display. This proved to be one of the most interesting assemblies of the year.

der the supervision of Professor R. S. Dunham, Registrar J. W. Mlinar and Misses Dorothy Smith, Katherine Hennig and Grace Warne. This program opened with selections by the school orchestra followed by songs by the school octette. Professor McCall, chairman of the meeting, introduced the speakers who included the superintendent; Coach A. C. Heine, Morris; Coach R. J. Christgau, and greetings from prominent alumni including Erling Strand, Twin Valley; Norah Hamre, Gary, and Edwin Myers, Warroad. A feature of the program was a specialty number centering around the theme, "This Little Piggy Came to Crookston."

The annual alumni dinner was one of the outstanding features of the day. Following the banquet which had been arranged by Professors E. R. Clark and O. M. Kiser and Misses Fanny Lippitt and Retta Bede, a brief but impressive speaking program was held. Superintendent Dowell introduced the following speakers: Professor McCall, chairman of the athletic committee; Professor Clark, chairman of the banquet committee; Coach A. C. Heine and Professor Glenn Prickett of Morris; Coach R. J. Christgau; Captain Aage Buhl, Morris; Captain Ralph Sheldon, Crookston; Mrs. Naomi Geer, former matron of Robertson Hall; Arnold Strand, Twin Valley; Elmer Anderson, Clearbrook; Esther Gibbons, Crookston, and Ann Thoreson Anderson, Grand Forks.

Faculty, alumni and students were in a jovial mood for the big dance and party which served as a fitting climax to another victory over our ancient rivals. The spacious physical education dance hall had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, while the cafeteria room of the dining hall was filled to capacity with students who elected to take part in the various games and inter-class contests. The party committee was composed of Misses Lydia Dahlen and Dorothy Smith and Professor A. M. Pilkey, while the dance was supervised by Professor A. M. Foker and Misses Grace Warne and Constance Lane. A profusion of school colors in addition to unique lighting effects added much to the appearance of the various campus buildings.

HOME PROJECT WINNERS

The home project show, which is held each year in connection with the Parents' Day celebration, serves as a fitting climax to the work carried on by Northwest School students during the summer months. In organizing and developing the individual projects, our students actually establish miniature experiment stations and demonstration centers throughout the Red River valley counties. These students work under the supervision of home project leaders, E. R. Clark, R. J. Christgau and Retta Bede, assisted by other members of the faculty. In this way, a high standard of excellence is maintained.

Judges at the recent home project fair included Carl G. Ash, West Polk County agent, who judged the boys' exhibits and Mildred Schenck of the 4-H club division, University farm, who made the awards in the girls' division.

Winners were announced as follows:

Bread Baking: 1, Margaret Lerud, Twin Valley; 2, Margaret Moe, Lancaster; 3, Myrtle Nisbet, East Grand Forks; 4, Barbara Claney, Stephen; 5, Betty McVeety, East Grand Forks. Cookies: 1, Marie Johansen, Pitt; 2, Barbara Claney; 3, Alvina Urbaniak, Argyle; 4, Marlys Hanson, Fertile; 5, Margaret Moe. Canning Fruits and Vegetables: 1, Laura Hanson, Thief River Falls; 2, Agatha Olson, Beltrami; 3, Joyce Stamnes, Halma; 4, Irene Holst, Thief River Falls. Meat Canning: 1, Alta Torkelson, Crookston. House Dress: 1, Ruth Lerud, Twin Valley; 2, Anne Hofstad, Oklee; 3, Marie Youmans, Crookston; 4, Gladys Gustafson, Trail; 5, Betty McVeety. Made Over Dress: 1, Alta Torkelson; 2, Margaret Lerud; 3, Agatha Olson; 4, Alvina Urbaniak. Silk or Wool Dress: 1, Joyce Stamnes; 2, Laura Hanson; 3, Olive Steen, Halstad; 4, Irene Holst; 5, Ebba Maattala, Oklee. Hemstitching: 1, Olive Steen. Thrift: 1, Margaret Lerud, 2, Ruth Lerud; 3, Mildred Youmans, Crookston; 4, Gladys Quantock, Argyle; 5, Lois Sargent, Crookston.

Potato Project: Irish Cobblers: 1, Leland Hanson, Twin Valley; 2, Harry Coulter, East Grand Forks; 3, Ray Oen, Thief River Falls; 4, Glenn Ellinger, Crookston; 5, Russell Cumming, East Grand Forks. Early Ohios: 1, Berlyn Stone, Kennedy; 2, Henry Hoper, Stephen; 3, LeRoy Peterson, Thief River Falls. Burbank Russets: 1, Edgar Ram-berg, Pitt. Pure Seed: Wheat: 1, Arlo Bergh, Hallock; 2, Gilbert Gunderson, Dalton; 3, Morris Hanson, Trail; 4, Clifford Homstad, Hallock; 5, Omar Neslund, Oklee. Oats: 1, Vincent Dahlgren, Kennedy; 2, Donald Gandrud; 3, Fdererick Reitan, Hawley. Barley: 1, Clarence Haugen, Oslo; 2, Marcus Wolden, Fergus Falls; 3, Glenn Tasa, Trail. Corn: 1, Dale Bloomquist, Drayton, N. D.; 2, Frederick Egeland, Fisher. Flax: 1, Oliver Haugen, St. Hilaire. Plant Identification: 1, Lester Lerud, Twin Valley; 2, Olaf Dahlen, Erie. Weed Seed Collection: 1, Richard Johansen, Pitt; 2, Noel Hanson, Detroit Lakes; 3, Stanley Alseth, Fox. Special: Torlied Boe, McIntosh.

Margaret Lerud won the sweepstakes in the girls' division, while Richard Johansen won similar honors in the boys' section.

PREPARE LAYING HOUSE FOR NEW LAYERS

"This is the time to clean and repair the laying house for maximum winter egg production from the spring pullets," states A. M. Pilkey, Northwest School and Station poultryman. According to Mr. Pilkey the entire house should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. The first step is to remove all litter from the floors and nests. Then with a sharp spade or hoe clean all surfaces including the dropping boards. The roosts should be placed on dropping boards and thoroughly soaked with discarded cylinder oil or some special preparation to protect the birds from mites.

Timely repairs to the poultry plant may include improved ventilation or insulation, or needed repairs to nests, dropping boards, drinking stands, windows, feed hoppers, etc. Professor Pilkey suggests one foot of feed hopper space for each five birds. He also suggests placing the drinking pans on a platform six inches wider than the pan and about eighteen inches above the floor. Mr. Pilkey urges poultry producers to prepare the laying house for the new layers as early as possible to avoid disturbance after the pullets have entered the period of heavy production.

PERSONALS

Miss Retta Bede addressed the women's meeting held in connection with the Red River Valley Dairymen's convention at Thief River Falls October 18.

T. M. McCall was one of the principal speakers at a special education week program held at Fisher November 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Short (Gertrude Pulkrabek, '24) of Angus are the parents of a son born October 26 at the Deaconess hospital in Grand Forks.

An announcement has been received of the birth of a daughter, Patricia Signe, to Mr. and Mrs. Jette Gulleksson, '29, of Ada on October 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Erickson (Evelyn Bain, '29) of Baudette announce the birth of a daughter, Patricia Lenore, on September 23.

Thelma Torkelson, '22, recently accepted a position as x-ray technician at Mounds Park sanatorium, St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hokanson (Audrey Stein, '30) of Herrod, Illinois, announce the birth of a son.

Helga Moe, '30, and Herman Johnson were married at the bride's home on September 28. The Johnsons are living on a farm near East Grand Forks.

Ruby Edeen, '32, and Chester Strandlie were married Saturday evening, October 27, at Clearbrook. They were attended by Olga Edeen, 30-31, and Roy Dale.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Vistad (Ethel Sellen, '25-26) of Pencer are the parents of a son born in October.

Kenneth Flom, '30, who is located at Sentinel Butte, N. D., writes that all former graduates are watching with unusual interest the progress made by Edwin Widseth, '32, who as a sophomore is starring as left tackle on the University of Minnesota football team. The Northwest Monthly is always pleased to receive letters from former graduates.

Ruth Gurley Hutchinson, former instructor in voice, sends greetings from 220 Marshall street, Gary, Indiana.

Recent campus visitors include Marvin Hagen, '32, of Underwood; Mrs. Naomi Geer of Mankato; George Roisum, '28, of Bagley; Elmer C. Johnson, '29, of Erskine; Edwin Myers, '32, of Warroad, and Franz Peterson, '08-10, of Warren.

Former Congressman and Mrs. C. G. Selvig are residing at 928 Lincoln Blvd., Santa Monica, California, for the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Medore LaChance, 27-28, are the parents of a son born Wednesday, October 24, at Elk River.

Chris Holte, '32, is assistant secretary-treasurer of the Cloverleaf Cooperative creamery at Spooner.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Bert Sorenson (Verna Henry, '29-30) of Altorio, Canada. Mrs. Sorenson is survived by her husband, an infant child, her father, R. H. Henry, four brothers and two sisters. Her sister Pearl, '32, is a student nurse at St. Lukes hospital, Fargo.

Dr. Harry Hedin, '11, of East Grand Forks, was a member of the Minnesota delegation in attendance at the American Legion National convention recently held in Miami, Florida.

Ernest Newhouse, '28, has been transferred from Duluth to Minneapolis as district manager of the Premier Electric company. Mr. and Mrs. Newhouse are making their home at the Admiral Apartment hotel, 312 S. 8th street.

Isabelle Letnes, '30, is enrolled at the National School of Cosmeticians in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fowler (Lenora Garceau, '15) and family are now living at Hallock, Minnesota.

An announcement has been received of the birth of a son, Robert Earl, to Mr. and Mrs. John Covlin, '29, of Mentor, on November 4.

Emil Hallgren, '18, has asked to have the school paper forwarded to him at 1610 Stevens avenue, Minneapolis.
