JUDGING CONTESTS POPULAR FEATURE

During the week of the shows, a total of 39 judging teams competed in various livestock and crops judging contests. Thirty-three of the judging teams were in action on Monday of the shows week. The 4-H Dairy judging contest, with six teams competing, was held on Thursday.

Competition was especially keen in all of the contests. Six sub-collegiate schools of agriculture in Minnesota, North and South Dakota had teams entered in both the stock and crops judging contests; six stock and three crops judging teams competed in the high school contest while eighteen other teams competed in the junior and adult farmers' stock judging.

N. W. Aggies Win in Stock Judging

In the livestock judging contest for sub-collegiate schools of agriculture, the Northwest School of Agriculture won first and was awarded a silver loving cup offered by the Crookston Milling company. Members of this team were Llewellyn Reese of Park Rapids, Dayton Hanson of Fertile, and Harold Clow of Orleans. Reese also was highest scoring individual in this contest. O. M. Kiser, animal husbandman at the Northwest School, coached this team. The North Central School of Agriculture, Grand Rapids, placed second and the Central School of Agriculture, St. Paul, third in this contest. Other team placings were as follows: Walsh county agricultural school, Park River, N. D., 4th; West Central School of Agriculture, Morris, 5th, and South Dakota School of Agriculture, Brookings, 6th.

In the crops judging contest for sub-collegiate schools, the West Central School at Morris won first; Walsh county school, 2nd; North Central School, 3rd; Central School, 4th; Northwest School, 5th, and South Dakota, 6th. Irving Sem of the West Central School was the highest scoring contestant.

For the seventh time in as many years the Park Rapids high school team, coached by A. C. O'Banion, agricultural instructor, at Park Rapids, won championship of the Smith-Hughes high school livestock judging contest. This team already has won two silver loving

"A" CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The semi-annual meeting of the "A" club, a recently formed organization consisting of all letter and medal winners of the Northwest School, was held Tuesday, December 20, at which time officers for the ensuing year were elected. Officers elected for the year were: Llewellyn Reese, Park Rapids, president; Esther Haugo, Mahanomen, recording secretary; Rodney Lindstrom, Lake Park, corresponding secretary.

Following the reading of the club's constitution and a discussion of its purposes, members of the 1933 football squad who had been awarded the football letter and members of the livestock and crops judging teams were voted memberships in the organization. Announcement was made by Coach Christgau, faculty advisor of the organization, that "A" club certificates were being mailed to all former letter and medal winners.

INCREASED EN- ROLMENT ASSURED

The winter term of the Northwest School of Agriculture opens on Monday, January 8. Advance registrations, according to Acting Superintendent T. M. McCall, indicate a healthy increase in enrolment for the winter term. The Northwest School during the fall term held the record in total attendance of the four agricultural schools of the state.

Courses offered at the Northwest School are attractive not only to those wishing to complete academic training preparatory to college entrance, but also to unemployed young men and women seeking self advancement to meet prevailing economic conditions.

Courses in gas engineering, carpentry, blacksmithing, crops and livestock production for boys with business training, cooking, sewing, home management for girls, enable young men and women to fit themselves for lives of usefulness.

The three months term at the agricultural school fits in admirably with the seasonal work of the region, enabling the boys and girls to attend school during the slack time of the year and fitting them for farm and home management positions during the summer months. More than fifty of the 262 students enrolled during the fall term were given part time employment enabling them to remain in school. Students from sixteen of the northwestern Minnesota counties were included in the part time work list. State and federal funds were made available as work relief for the needy students and, according to present plans, similar assistance will be given for the coming term.

Full information of the work relief plan of financing education for young men and women may be obtained by writing the acting superintendent of the Northwest School.

HOME ECONOMICS BUILDING REDECORATED

Students and staff members using Home Economics Building and Stephens Hall will be agreeably surprised to find the entire interior of those buildings redecorated and ready for use on January 8, the opening day of school.

FARMERS' WEEK A SUCCESS

The Northwest School Farmers' Week and Red River Valley Winter Shows, which closed at Crookston on December 15, was one of the most successful in recent years. The attendance records this year, in spite of the premature February weather, were better than a year ago.

The night mass meetings were the high lights of the week's program with C. F. Monroe of St. Paul speaking for agriculture on Tuesday; Dr. George Mecklenburg of Minneapolis speaking on "The Red Map of Russia" Wednesday; Senator Henrik Shipstead on Thursday, and the Northwestern Minnesota Singers on Friday. Packed houses greeted the speakers at the women's meetings each day. The women's program was one of the strongest in years, with outstanding speakers and instrumental and vocal music each day. The climax of the women's meetings was reached Friday with the original pageant "Narrative of American Women." The overflow crowd was given an opportunity to see the famous women characters pass in review during the intermission of the concert of the Northwestern Minnesota Singers. "The Narrative of American Women," a pageant written by Crookston women, was pronounced to be the most outstanding and marvelous production ever emanating from the Red River Valley.

Organizations Elect Officers

Many of the organizations cooperating with the Northwest School in staging the Winter Shows held annual business meetings and elected officers for the ensuing year. The Minnesota Red River Valley Development association elected the following officers: President, W. E. Dahlquist, Thief River Falls; first vice president, T. M. McCall, acting superintendent of the Northwest School. Other officers re-elected include Wm. Ash, St. Vincent, second vice president; S. M. Sivertson, Crookston, treasurer, and Wm. R. Low, Crookston secretary. Directors whose terms expired included George Whalen, Barnesville; C. C. Williams, Detroit Lakes; R. B. Taralseth, Warren; Theodore Quale, Thief River Falls; James Driscoll, East Grand Forks; Theodore Edenstrom, and H. M. Gronner, Underwood. All were re-elected.

The Red River Valley Livestock association re-elected the full slate of officers, including C. G. Selvig, Crookston, president; F. A. Green, Stephen, vice president; M. E. Dahl Twin Valley, treasurer, and O. M. Kiser, Crookston, secretary. Three directors whose terms expired also were re-elected. These included E. E. Carman, Ada; Paul Engstad, Thief River Falls, and J. H. Sargent, Crookston. Myrtle Himrum of Lake Park, a former 4-H club member, and for many years an exhibitor in the junior and open classes of the Red River Valley Winter Shows, was elected a member of the advisory board. She is the first woman ever to be elected to an office in this fifteen-year-old organization. She succeeded L. J. Johren of Detroit Lakes. Theodore Sanden of Beaulieu also was elected a member of the advisory board to replace George Huggett of Mahnomen, who died during the past year. All other members of the advisory board were re-elected.

The Northern Minnesota Poultry association, the organization which sponsors the winter poultry show, held a brief meeting and voted to continue its annual session April 2 when new officers will be elected. Present officers of this association will hold over until that time. They are J. P. Norman, Crookston, president; Clifford Webster, Beltrami, first vice president, and John Saugstad Crookston, secretary-treasurer.

The Minnesota Red River Valley Beekeepers association annual election will take place at the summer meeting. P. N. Tri of Humboldt is president and T. M. McCall of Crookston secretary-treasurer.

The Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders association re-elected all its previous officers who are as follows: Stuart McLeod, Thief River Falls, president; F. A. Uggren, Erskine, vice president; Harry Woolson, Thief River Falls, secretary-treasurer; and Clayton Whaley, Warroad; Charles Horien, Strathcona; L. Jensen, Clearbrook; Clarence Holte, Shelly; Andrew Morkassel, Warren, and Ole Flaot, Fisher, directors.

At the annual election of officers of the Northwestern Minnesota Singers' association Mr. Ellroy Knowles of East Grand Forks was elected president; James Larson, Halstad, vice president; N. A. Thorson, Crookston, re-elected secretary; Magnus Erickson, McIntosh, treasurer; S. A. Jordahl, Fertile, historian; E. C. Lee, Mentor, elected as a new member of the music committee; Alfred Lindem, Fisher, auditor; Thomas Vollom Erskine, marshal; T. W. Thorson, Crookston, director and D. D. Bodahl East Grand Forks, assistant director. Rev. G. W. Tolo of Fertile is the retiring president.

INTER-SCHOOL DEBATES MARCH 9-10

Keen interest in debating was shown in the spirited tryouts for the debating teams that were held during the fall term. A total of twelve boys and five girls tried out for the team, from which group thirteen were selected for the debate squad.

Veterans from last year's team making the squad this year include Esther Haugo, Mahnomen; Selmer Johnson, Crookston; Richard Holmgren, Carp; Paul Hansen, Crookston, and Burnet Bergeson, Twin Valley. Students making the debate squad for the first time include Rose Naplin, Wylie; Walter Canan, Crookston; Jerome Molacek, Ulen; Perry Borgie, Thief River Falls; Joyce Stammes, Halma; Laura Hansen, Thief River Falls; Ruth Lerud, Twin Valley, and Walter Beatty Crookston.

Class teams were organized within the debate squad and class debates were held on Tuesday evening, December 19. In the Freshman-Junior debate, the Juniors won the decision. The Advanced were declared winners in the Senior-Advanced debate. The teams and team members for the class debates were: Freshmen—Walter Beatty and Ruth Lerud; Juniors—Laura Hansen and Joyce Stammes; Seniors—Esther Haugo and Selmer Johnson; Advanced—Rose Naplin and Paul Hansen.

The question adopted for the triangular debate is "Resolved: That the United States should adopt the essential features of the British system of radio operation and control." Debate Coach D. C. McGenty will accompany the negative team to St. Paul where they will meet the Central School team on Friday, March 9. The affirmative team will meet the West Central School team at Crookston on Saturday, March 10.

SHELDON ELECTED CAPTAIN

Ralph Sheldon, Bagley, a senior, was elected by lettermen on the 1933 football squad to lead the 1934 Northwest School football aggregation. Announcement of the election was made by retiring captain Llewellyn Reese at the final all-school assembly of the first semester.

Sheldon, who was one of the fastest men on the squad, has played halfback on the 1932 and 1933 teams. His sensational offensive play has been one of the highlights of the 1933 season when the Northwest School eleven was declared Minnesota Ag School Conference champion for the fourth consecutive season.

The election of the captain was held shortly after members of the 1933 squad had been awarded letters and bars for the past season by A. M. Foker, chairman of the athletic committee. Following the awards, the lettermen retired to hold the election and shortly after returned to the auditorium, led by the retiring captain, and proceeded to the stage from where the 1933 captain, Reese, commented upon the past season and thanked members of the team for their excellent cooperation and the student body for the support given the team. Following these brief comments, Reese handed a football to Sheldon, symbolic of his election as next year's captain. The announcement was greeted with rounds of applause and yells by the student body.

Nine lettermen are expected to return for the 1934 season.

REESE MOST VALUABLE MAN

To Llewellyn Reese, captain of the 1933 football squad, went the honor of being the most valuable man on the football team during the past season and as a result he was awarded the Ruettell Honor Sweater by the Ruettell Clothing Company of Crookston. For the past seven years the Ruettell Company has made an award to the most valuable man in football and basketball.

The awards are based upon the popular vote of the entire squad together with the superintendent, coach and the Ruettell Clothing Company. Announcement of the award for 1933 was made by Coach Christgau at the final assembly of the first semester.

Reese's name takes its place along with other football greats who have received the award during the past seven years. Former winners of the Ruettell Honor Sweater are: 1927, Carl Widseth, McIntosh; 1928, Arthur Widseth (deceased); 1929, Martin Odland, Wadena; 1930, Lawrence Peterson, Gary; 1931, Kenneth Avery, Hallock, and 1932, Edwin Widseth, McIntosh.

Reese has been one of the mainstays of the football teams of 1932 and 1933. His sensational play at halfback has brought comments from coaches of teams throughout the northwestern part of the state. In addition to his football prowess, Reese has been active in other extra-curricular activities. He was a member of the Northwest School Livestock Judging team which recently won first place at the Winter Shows. Reese was high individual scorer in the contest scoring a total of 823 points out of a possible 1000.

Reese's home is Park Rapids, Minn.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS BRIGHT

An attractive ten-game basketball schedule, including six home contests and four on foreign courts, has been announced for the winter term by Coach R. J. Christgau. Two or three more games may be added during the course of the playing season. The home games will bring to the Northwest School gym as Aggie opponents the following teams: Gonvick Independents, East Grand Forks High, St. Paul Aggies and the Morris Aggies. The Gonvick Independent team is a newcomer on Aggie athletic schedules and during the coming season a home and home arrangement has been made. East Grand Forks' high athletic teams will make their appearance on the Aggie schedule after an absence of five years. Two games in the Northwest School gym have been scheduled with the East Siders. The three final games of the season will bring the traditional rivals, the St. Paul and Morris Aggies, to the Aggie gym.

cups offered by the Red River Valley Livestock association, and this year made a fresh start toward winning a third trophy. This team was composed of Marie Rixen, Delmer Ogden and Wendell Edam, who placed first, second and third in the order named, as individual contestants. Marie was the only girl who took part in this contest. Bemidji high school placed 2nd; Fosston high school 3rd, Deer River high school 4th, Grand Rapids high school 5th and Barnesville high school 6th, in this contest.

The Park Rapids high school team also won first in the high school crops judging contest which was the first of its kind held for high school students at the Red River Valley Winter Shows. Members of this team were Richard Sutton and Curtis Weaver. The Grand Rapids high school placed second, and Fosston high school third in this contest.

In the 4-H club livestock judging contest, a Clearwater county team, composed of Delbert Darst, Bagley, Clifton Gustafson, Gonvick, and Glen Long, Clearbrook, won first, and Gustafson was highest scoring individual in the contest. This team was coached by C. C. Chase, county agent of Clearwater county. They were awarded a silver loving cup donated by Lofgren-McGregor of Ada. The Kittson club of Polk county, composed of three brothers, Paul, Robert and Albert Brekken, placed second and other team placings were as follows: Polk county A, composed of LeRoy Cournia, Elfage Mercil and Willard Dubuque, all of Crookston, 3rd; Beltrami county, 4th; Clay county, 5th; Marshall county, 6th; Sunnyside of Polk county, 7th, and Polk county B team, 8th.

In a 4-H club dairy cattle judging contest, which was held at the Winter Shows, a Hubbard county team composed of Wilbur Sanford, Ben Traverse and Eddie Krufft won first. Sanford also made the highest individual score. The East Otter Tail county team composed of Reino Lappi, Walter Hintikka and Donald Simon won second. The Eastern Polk county team composed of Kenneth Bolstad, Joseph Widseth and Christ Uggen tied with the Clearwater county team, composed of Harold Berg, George Pattison and Harold Edgar for third place. Roseau county placed fourth and Clay county fifth in this contest.

In the farmers' livestock judging contest, the Beltrami Boosters club, Polk county, for the second consecutive year won championship and was awarded a silver trophy which was donated by the Red River Valley Livestock association. Andrew Johnstad, Alger Longstreet and Arnold Johnstad were members of this team. Second honors in this contest were awarded to the Keywest Farmers' club of Polk county which was represented by William Story, Ben Tucker and Ernest Love. Both of these teams were coached by Carl Ash, county agent of Western Polk county. The Grant Valley Farmers' club of Beltrami county won third and the Flom Farm Bureau of Norman county, 4th. Ben Tucker of the Keywest club and Wellington Schroeder of the Grant Valley club tied for first individual honors.

Get-Together Enjoyed

The annual "Get-Together" Christmas dinner of the Northwest School faculty and students was held at the school dining hall December 20. A group of more than three hundred students, faculty and guests enjoyed the banquet prepared under the direction of Miss Fanny B. Lippitt, matron of the dining hall. The get-together banquet, a tradition at the school, marks the final assemblage of the students and faculty for the term.

The banquet program was built around the theme of internationalism of Christmas. Acting Superintendent T. M. McCall acted as toastmaster for the program and in extending greetings, read the holiday greeting message received from Superintendent and Mrs. A. A. Dowell of Washington, D. C.

Representatives of appropriate nationalities were selected from the different classes to describe the celebration of Christmas in various lands. Roland Wentzel, freshman of Fisher, described the Christmas celebrations of Germany. Arthur Sanden, junior of Beaulieu, spoke on the observance of Christmas in Holland. Torlief Boe, senior from McIntosh, gave a first hand description of the thirteen-day Christmas celebration in Norway. Jean Nisbet, East Grand Forks, a member of the advanced class, described vividly the observance of the Christmas season in England. Professor Vincent Iverson, as spokesman for the faculty, discussed the observance of Christmas in America.

A faculty ensemble consisting of Miss Katherine Hennig, Miss Fae Hughbanks, Denis C. McGenty and J. W. Mlinar sang in native tongue the following selections characteristic of the various nationality groups: "Stille Nacht," "God Rest You, Merry Gentlemen" and "Adeste Fidelis" with violin obligato by Miss Grace Warne. Miss Katherine Hennig sang "Jesu Bambino" by Pietro Yon. Miss Constance Lane played the piano accompaniment.

Many guests from Crookston and vicinity were entertained at the get-together dinner by faculty members. The guest list for the school included Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Norman, Dr. and Mrs. O. E. Locken, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Oppgaard, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Hodgson, and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Thorson. Mayor and Mrs. W. J. Kirkwood of Crookston were unable to be present due to the illness of Mayor Kirkwood.

Dr. J. F. Norman in his usual pleasing manner extended greetings to the faculty and school from the Crookston guests. The faculty children of grade school age sang Christmas songs, while the younger tots paraded with letter banners spelling "Merry Christmas." The girls' glee club under the direction of Miss Katherine Hennig concluded the program by singing Christmas carols.

Road games include contests with the Park River Aggies at Park River, N. Dak., Gonvick, Bemidji Teachers college, and the Grand Rapids Aggies. The schedule as announced by Coach Christgau is as follows

January 12—Park River (N. D.) Aggies there.

January 15—Bemidji Teachers there.

January 16—Gonvick Independents there.

January 22—East Grand Forks high here.

January 27—Grand Rapids Aggies there.

January 29—East Grand Forks high here.

February 10—Gonvick Independents here.

February 24—St. Paul Aggies here.

March 2—Morris Aggies here.

March 3—Morris Aggies here.

Practice sessions will begin the first day of the second semester. Coach Christgau has selected eighteen candidates for the squad. Four lettermen. Captain Rodney Lindstrom, Lake Park; Clarence Weckwerth, Hazel; Carman Eeg, Gary, and Stanley Alseth, Fox, are included in the group which is comprised of the following; Theos Morck, Crookston; Oscar Larson, Crookston; Clarence Skaren, East Grand Forks; Mordy Morrison, Hallock; Frederick Egeland, Fisher; Richard Johansen, Pitt; Paul Billberg, Wannaska; Gilmar Alseth, Willmar; Roland Wentzel, Fisher; Elmer Ross, Fisher; George Kersting, Waubun; Cyrus Oistad, Shelly; Merl Jenkins, Crookston, and Clarence Clementson, Erskine.

In the three games played before the Christmas holidays the Aggies have suffered defeats at the hands of the Thief River Falls high school quint by a 45-21 score and Bemidji Teachers College five by a 63-19 score. The annual alumni contest held during the Winter Shows week resulted in a one-sided victory for the school team.

Outstanding candidates on the team in addition to the lettermen of the past season are Theos Morck, Oscar Larson and Elmer Ross.

Coach Christgau also announced that the class basketball teams will be organized shortly after the start of the second semester and play for the silver trophy, awarded each year to the class team winning most games, would begin during the third week of the semester. A schedule of twelve games for class teams has been drawn up.

Miss Elsie Mae Kingston, instructor in girls' physical education, has also announced that practices for the girls' class teams would begin shortly after the second semester is under way.

Honor Awards Assembly

The semi-annual awards assembly was held at the Northwest School Monday at which time honors were given for the fall term. Acting Superintendent T. M. McCall presided at the meeting and spoke briefly on the sub-collegiate contests won during the semester and pointed out the fact that the Northwest School had won two of the three championships (football and livestock judging), while individual high records were made by members of the crops judging team. A. M. Foker, chairman of the athletic committee presented the awards to members of the football team. Team members receiving service bars included Llewellyn Reese, Park Rapids, who received the captain's star and two service bars. Ralph Sheldon, Bagley; Clarence Weckwerth, Hazel; Noel Hanson, Detroit Lakes; Phil LeMasurier, Crookston, and Willard Kimmel, Fergus Falls. Men receiving honorary A's for the first time included Carmen Eeg, Gary; Stanley Alseth, Fox; Rodney Lindstrom, Lake Park; Theos Morck, Crookston; Edson Washburn, Crookston; Torlief Boe, McIntosh; Richard Johansen, Pitt; Gilbert Gunderson, Dalton; Elmer Ross, Fisher; George Kersting, Waubun; Merle Jenkins, Crookston, and Arne Nelson, Twin Valley.

Coach R. J. Christgau spoke briefly on the accomplishments of the team and announced the winner of the Ruettell sweater given to the most valuable man on the team as retiring captain Llewellyn Reese of Park Rapids. One of the traditional features of the awards assembly is the announcement of the football captain for the following year. Team members, upon receiving their A's, retire to a side room and elect the captain. The retiring captain announces the new captain through the presentation of the new football. Ralph Sheldon, a senior student from Bagley, was elected captain for 1934.

Awards to members of the crops judging team were made by Professor R. S. Dunham. The two members of the team winning the gold A's were Richard Holmgren of Carp and Arthur Sanden of Beaulieu. The crops team was coached by Professor E. R. Clark.

O. M. Kiser, coach of the sub-collegiate livestock judging team which won first in the contest at the Winter Shows made the awards to the members of the livestock judging team. Mr. Kiser announced that Llewellyn Reese was the highest scoring individual in the contest. Dayton Hanson of Fertile and Harold Clow of Orleans were the other members of the team who made excellent records.

The members of the cross country team which raced against Bemidji Teachers college were introduced. The cross country squad was composed of Gail Rowley, Lancaster; Clifford Homstad, Hallock; Gordon Clow, Orleans; Perry Borgie, Thief River Falls, and Harold Clow, Orleans. Other team members include Orbin Thompson, East Grand Forks, and Roald Amundson, Erskine. Cross country running, a new sport for the Northwest School, promises to become one of sub-collegiate importance in another year.

Home project winners were announced by faculty project leaders, E. R. Clark for boys' projects and Miss Retta Bede for the girls' projects. Projects and winners in the boys' contest include: Potato production—Clifford Sauer, Hendrum; Pure seed—Francis Nelson, Hendrum; Plant identification—Oscar Larson, Crookston; Dairy management—Llewellyn Reese; Turkey production—Jerome Molacek, Ulen; Windbreak and home grounds beautification—Richard Holmgren. Torlief Boe, a senior student from McIntosh, high ranking student in two projects, was declared the home project winner of the boys and was awarded the silver trophy.

The girls' project winners were Olive Steen, junior of Halstad, who won the silver trophy for the best all-around work in all projects, with Agatha Olson, senior, runner up, winning sweepstakes ribbon.

The high standings of the individual students in the inter-school and inter-class contests and the winning of two major championships out of three were evidences of a very successful school term.

PERSONALS

The marriage of Miss Carrie Ovnan, '17, and Mr. Theodore Olson occurred Monday afternoon, November 27, at the home of the bride's parents. The newlyweds are making their home near East Grand Forks.
