School Closes Outstanding Year

Commencement week activities brought to a close one of the most successful seasons in the history of the Northwest School. A marked increase in attendance resulted in the second highest enrolment since the school was established, the total having been exceeded only by the record attendance during the school year 1929-30. In the five major inter-school contests, Northwest School teams captured the championship in livestock judging, crops judging and debate, and tied for the championship in football. Basketball was the only activity in which the Aggies were forced to acknowledge the superiority of their opponents. From the standpoint of scholarship, general interest and enthusiasm on the part of the student body, the past year was all that could be desired. Furthermore, members of the faculty, many of whom carried unusually heavy teaching schedules, assumed the additional responsibilities due to the unexpected increase in attendance with characteristic interest in the welfare of each individual student.

An impressive commencement program was a fitting climax to an outstanding year. The beautiful auditorium was taxed far beyond capacity, and even with the addition of one hundred extra chairs, many were forced to stand throughout the program. Everyone appreciated the appropriate greetings from Dean W. C. Coffey, and the response by Dr. O. J. Hagen, who represented the University Board of Regents. The address of the evening was delivered by the Honorable Duncan

Marshall, Minister of Agriculture for the province of Ontario, Canada. Mr. Marshall has the distinction of being the first Canadian to hold the same position in two different provinces. He previously served for twelve years as Minister of Agriculture in Alberta. He is one of the foremost agriculturists on the continent and is recognized as the father of the School of Agriculture movement in Canada. During his term of office in Alberta, he established six

Awards Assembly

Many coveted awards were announced at the closing assembly of the year, which was devoted entirely to recognition of students and groups who had contributed largely to the success of the more important inter-school and inter-class events. In opening the assembly, Superintendent A. A. Dowell congratulated the students upon their unusual achievements during the year, and also expressed special appreciation to the faculty for the part they had played in making these achievements possible.

The athletic awards were made by T. M. McCall, chairman of the Athletic committee, who presented letters to the following members of the school basketball squad: Captain Stanley Alseth, Fox; Ralph Sheldon, Bagley; Lester MacGregor, agricultural schools in that province.

Crookston; Kenneth Albertson, Crookston; Bert Spence, Crookston; Harry Fink, Crookston; Richard Johansen, Pitt; Paul Billberg, Wannaska; Clarence Stromberg, Rosewood; Elmer Ross, Fisher, and William Munby, Breckenridge, student manager. The captain's star was also awarded to Stanley Alseth. Members of the school cross country team were also presented with emblems, the following being recipients of that award: Grant Bothum, Karlstad; Clifford Homstad, Hallock; Harry Coulter, East Grand Forks; Martin Chilson, Crookston; Arvid Anderson, Bagley.

In addressing the graduates, he emphasized the importance of agriculture in the life of the nation. He said in part, "The production of superior livestock and farm crops is the noblest work of man. Not only is good farming a dignified calling, but it leads to the kind of personal satisfaction that can only come from achieving something worth while." His impressive address was filled with a flow of witty comments and appropriate illustrations that added much to the pleasure of the evening.

Other features of the commencement program included an address by Bur-

TREE PLANTING PROGRAM ADOPTED

Students and faculty of the Northwest School have adopted a tree planting program for the coming summer that will involve the planting of trees on farms scattered throughout fourteen northwestern Minnesota counties. At a special school assembly, the entire student body signed pledges to plant during the spring months at least one white elm on the home grounds, these trees to be designated as Northwest School trees.

The program is being sponsored by the Advanced class and was presented to the students by Selmer Johnson, Crookston, who represented this class, and explained the purpose of the program. T. M. McCall, veteran school and station horticulturist, addressed the students explaining the reasons for the selection of the white elm as the official Northwest School tree. The entire program was given over to a discussion of the new project. Miss Katherine Hennig, instructor in voice, presented an appropriate vocal solo, Joyce Killmer's "Trees." At the conclusion of the assembly, tree planting pledges were distributed and signed by the entire group.

According to present plans, the tree planting program is to become a permanent school tradition. As the years pass by, graceful, long-lived white elms will dot the entire Red River Valley, thus serving as an added connecting link between the farms of this territory and the Northwest School, which first opened its doors to the young people of the northwest in 1906.

Alseth Wins LaVoi-Widseth Award

Stanley Alseth was presented with the LaVoi-Widseth award in recognition of his valuable services in basketball and football, together with an excellent scholastic record. Stanley played end on the 1934 football team and was recognized as the most dependable punter in the conference. He also served as captain of the basketball team.

Lerud Captures Memorial

Early during commencement week, the class of 1934 announced the presentation to the school of a memorial to be known as "The Class of 1934 Memorial Scholarship Award." The award will be made each year to the member of the advanced class who maintains the highest scholastic average during the four years in attendance, with due regard to the number of credits carried. The award is to be made entirely on a basis of scholarship. One winner will be named each year, and the winner's name will be engraved on the plaque which will be hung in Kiehle building. This high honor was conferred upon Lester Lerud, president of the class of 1934, who will be the first student to have his name engraved on this plaque. He earned 225 credits with a four-year average of 2.6. In addition to his fine scholarship record, Lester won his "A" as a member of the state championship livestock judging team, was assistant editor of the 1934 Aggie; member of numerous musical organizations, and won his letter as a member of the class championship basketball team.

CLASS BASKETBALL CONTESTS POPULAR

At the conclusion of a twelve-game basketball schedule which had been arranged for both the girls' and boys' divisions, championship honors were awarded to the Junior girls and to the Advanced boys. Championship trophies and class numerals were awarded members of the two teams at the final school assembly by Miss Elsie Mae Kingston, director of girls' physical education classes, and R. J. Christgau, in charge of boys' work. Interest and enthusiasm in the inter-class games was at a high pitch throughout the entire season and spectators were treated to many hard fought games.

Scoring five victories as against one defeat, the Junior girls finished ahead of other class teams in the girls' division. The Advanced and Senior girls tied for second place with a record of three victories and two defeats each. The final game of the season between these two teams was not played since the result would have had no direct bearing on the championship. The Freshman girls finished in fourth place. Class numerals were awarded to members of the Junior team, who were Captain Ann Hofstad, Oklee; Gladycy Gustafson, Trail; Ruth Lerud, Twin Valley; Martha Rasmussen, Ada; Arvilla Sovick, Clearbrook; Irene Tasa, Trail; Borghild Burseth, Fergus Falls, and Myrtle Nisbet, East Grand Forks. Captain Hofstad was also awarded possession of the silver trophy for one year.

The Advanced boys finished their playing schedule of six games without a defeat. Second place honors went to the Freshmen who scored three victories and three defeats. A record of two victories and four defeats gave the Seniors third place, while the Juniors finished in last place with one victory and five defeats. Coach R. J. Christgau presented Captain Gilbert 'Gunder-son, Fergus Falls, with a silver trophy in addition to numerals to the captain and other members of the team, who were William Sitko, Ada; Raymond Mykleby, Eldred; Glenn Ellinger, Crookston; Edward Sargent, Crookston; Edson Washburn, Crookston; Lester Lerud, Twin Valley, and Bertrum Johnson, Hawley.

PFLUGHOEFT ANNOUNCES ANNUAL SHORT COURSE

Plans for the annual Junior Short course to be held at the Northwest School during the week of June 17 to 22 are rapidly taking form, according to District Club Leader H. A. Pflughoeft. Because of the marked increase in attendance during recent years, it has been decided to hold two short courses in place of a single session as has been the case in the past. Four-H club members from the southern Valley counties will attend June 17 to 19, while the northern counties will be in attendance June 20 to 22.

Southern counties include Clay, Otter Tail, Becker, Norman, Polk and Mahnomen. The northern group of counties will include Kittson, Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake and Clearwater. By arranging two separate short courses, Mr. Pflughoeft expects to hold each group to a maximum of not over six hundred, thus accommodating approximately twelve hundred club members during the week.

In addition to the regular class and laboratory work in agriculture and home economics, a special recreational program is being arranged by Coach R. J. Christgau. Other features will include special group stunts, county contests and entertainment. Mr. Pflughoeft has also announced a special conference of 4-H club leaders to be adressed by State Club Leader T. A. Erickson and other leading officials. Registration of club members will be supervised by J. W. Mlinar, Northwest School registrar, and members of the school staff will assist with the educational program.

DORMITORIES HOLD OPEN HOUSE MARCH 17

Students, faculty, alumni and parents expressed their approval of the plan adopted this year by which the traditional "open house" was held in all three dormitories on the same Sunday instead of selecting a different Sunday for each dormitory as in former years. The change made it possible for many parents and alumni, who came from a distance, to inspect all student rooms during the one visit to the campus.

Sunday, March 17, was designated as open house day and students extended invitations to parents and friends to visit the campus and inspect student accommodations in all dormitories. One hour for inspection and visitation was assigned to each dormitory.

Residents of Senior hall acted as hosts from 2:30 to 3:30. Lester Lerud and Burnett Bergeson, both of Twin Valley, were awarded first prize for general attractiveness and neatness of their room. Second place honors went to Stanley Alseth, Fox; Richard Johansen, Pitt; Harry Tangen, Menahga, and Francis Nelson, Hendrum. Third place was awarded to George Smrstik, Roosevelt, and Olaf Dahlen, Erie. The judges in Senior hall were Professors R. S. Dunham, A. M. Foker and T. M. McCall.

The following hour was devoted to open house at Stephens hall with Miss Grace Mary Warne, Miss Dorothy Smith, and Professor A. M. Pilkey as judges. Winners were Axel Rynning and Stanley Swenson, Kennedy, first; Roland Wentzel, Fisher, and Clifford Trangsrud, Duxby, second; Oliver Haugen, St. Hilaire, and Alfred Olson, Beltrami, third.

Open House at Robertson hall was scheduled for 4:30 to 5:30 p. m., with Mrs. V. C. Kallal, Mrs. H. M. Woolery and Miss Constance Lane as judges. Helen Carlson, Halstad, and Agatha Olson, Beltrami, were awarded first place; Arvilla Sovick, Clearbrook, and Marie Youmans, Crookston, second, and Gladys Lindholm, Baudette, third.

An unusually large crowd attended open house this year. In the group were many Crookston residents and friends of the school as well as parents and alumni who were unanimous in voicing their approval of the change which permitted inspection of all dormitories during the day.

The following changes in addresses have been received: Clifford Lerud, '24-25, to Rt. 1, Beaverton, Oregon; Emil Hallgren, '18, Minneapolis, 1610 Stevens Ave.; Eleanor Olson, '34, Seattle, Washington, 549 N. 72nd Ave.; Harold Erikson, '22, Duluth, Rt. 1, Box 369; Rudolph Steen, '15-16, Halstad.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Anderson (Lucille LaRiviere, '30-31 Sp.) are the parents of a daughter born April 20 at St. Michael's hospital, Grand Forks.

Colorful Class Day Programs

Special class days were observed by the two upper classes during the closing days of the term. The traditional Advanced day was observed on Saturday, March 16, and Senior day was observed on Thursday of the following week.

Wearing the class colors of royal purple and silver, the Advanced class made a picturesque entrance into the school dining hall for the early morning breakfast which signalled the opening of the day's activities. Specially arranged and decorated tables with an impromptu program completed the preliminaries of the colorful event. At the regular school assembly, members of the class, headed by their advisers, Miss Elsie Kingston and D. C. McGenty, marched in double file formation into the auditorium and proceeded to the stage where they opened the program by singing the Advanced class song. Following this opening number, a blare of trumpets announced the coming of the king and queen who had been previously elected by the class. Esther Haugo, Mahnomen, was elected queen, while Selmer Johnson, Crookston, filled the role of king. An excellent program, presided over by Lester Lerud as chancellor, was presented by members of the class who were ordered to perform before their majesties. Subjects who presented special numbers included Margaret Lerud, Twin Valley, piano solo; Bertrum Johnson, Hawley, vocal solo; Gladys Lindholm, Baudette, tap dance; Marjorie Bysom, Fosston, cello solo; reading, William Sitko, Ada, together with the boys' quartet and girls' sextette. Edward Sargent, Crookston, was court jester, and Gilbert Gunderson, Fergus Falls, was the king's chief magistrate. Other events of the Advanced class day included a sunlight dance in the parlor of Senior hall; the traditional bonfire and the burning of class notes, and the presentation of the Advanced class symbol by Lester Lerud, president, to Burnett Bergeson, Senior president, with instructions to continue the Advanced class traditions.

Thursday, March 21, was celebrated as Senior day and the chief feature of the day's program was the distribution of the 1935 Red River Aggie. The day began with a pre-breakfast parade around the campus. Seated in a horse drawn buggy and leading the procession were the class advisers, Miss Fae Hugbanks and Miss Lydia Dahlen. Next in line were members of the class garbed in red and white. Copies of the annual were distributed to Seniors at the breakfast table, after which other students and faculty were privileged to get their first glimpse of the publication. The assembly program was under the direction of the class, and the traditional "moving up" exercises were carried out in record time. With Burnett Bergeson, president of the class in charge, the faculty were assigned to seats usually occupied by Freshmen; the Advanced students were moved to the faculty section, Seniors to Advanced, and Freshmen to Junior. A "comedy-mellerdrammer" which was presented by the class afforded much amusement to faculty and students.
