CROPS AND SOILS DAY

July 13, 1936

The annual Crops and Soils Day will be held Monday, July 13, at the Northwest School and Station. The program is under the auspices of the Red River Valley Crops and Soils association. Everyone interested in the newest developments in crops and soils work is invited. The campus makes an attractive place for a picnic dinner, and coffee and cream will be furnished free by the school. A program for women and children is being arranged in conjunction with the men's program.

Herman Skyberg, Fisher, president of the Crops and Soils association, has called a business meeting of that organization for one-thirty. Following this, the entire afternoon will be devoted to a tour of inspection and a discussion of the plots and the experimental trials under way. Horticultural work, including sugar beet and potato investigations, will be explained by T. M. McCall, station horticulturist. The plots relating to field crops and soils are supervised by R. S. Dunham, station agronomist, who will lead this phase of the program. Pure seed production of wheat, oats, barley, and flax is supervised by E. R. Clark, station seed specialist, who will discuss future distribution of the varieties now being grown.

In spite of the successful performance of Thatcher, new wheat varieties have been produced, some of which appear to have certain advantages over Thatcher and others that have attempted to fill its place. A new hull-less oats has so far proved immune to smut and has yielded exceptionally well. Interest in fiber flax has been revived and trials of heavy seedings of Bison in comparison with a true fiber variety have been started at the instigation of a paper manufacturer. Three corn hybrids are included in the trials this year, one from University Farm, one from Northrup King and Company, and one from Sioux City Seed Company of Iowa.

ALUMNI REUNION SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

A large and enthusiastic group of alumni, former students, and faculty returned for the annual Summer Reunion which was held on the campus Saturday, June 27. With ideal weather, all events were carried out as scheduled, including the picnic dinner, baseball and kittenball games, alumni business meeting, and dance.

The students emerged victorious in the annual baseball game with the alumni, while the faculty won the kittenball game with the alumni by the narrow margin of a single score. A feature of the baseball game was the presence of Edwin Widseth, '32, co-captain of the University of Minnesota football team, and pitcher on the University baseball team, who pitched the last two innings for the alumni. Coach R. J. Christgau, former captain of the University of Minnesota baseball team, pitched for the students.

Fifteen members of the class of '16 returned for their twentieth annual reunion. This was the largest gathering of twenty-year graduates ever assembled on the Aggie campus, and was due largely to the many letters written to his classmates by Paul Engelstad. The

BOARD OF REGENTS TO VISIT STATION

The Board of Regents of the University will visit the Northwest School and Station Friday, July 10. According to present plans, the party will reach the campus about 10:00 a. m. and spend the forenoon inspecting the buildings and grounds, the experimental plots and the station herds and flocks. At 12:30 noon, a dinner will be served in the school dining hall in honor of the visitors by Miss Retta Bede, Miss Mary Thompson and the dining hall staff. Invitations are being extended to representatives of various organizations to join the Regents during the dinner hour.

All members of the School and Station staff look forward with pleasure to the Regents' visit. This will be the first time that the full Board has visited the Station during the crop growing season. The Regents will likewise appreciate the opportunity of meeting members of the staff and acquainting themselves with the work of the School and Station.

Members of the Board of Regents include: Dr. Lotus D. Coffman, president; Honorable Fred B. Snyder, vice president; William T. Middlebrook, secretary; Honorable Julius A. Collier, Honorable O. J. Hagen, Honorable George W. Lawson, Honorable W. J. Mayo, Honorable Frank W. Murphy, Honorable A. E. Olson, Honorable A. J. Olson, Honorable Albert Pfaender, Honorable Ray Quinlivan, Honorable R. R. Rand, Jr., Honorable Fred B. Snyder, and Honorable John G. Williams. The party will also include Dean W. C. Coffey, Dean M. M. Willey, Dr. W. F. Holman, F. W. Peck, E. B. Pierce, and T. E. Steward.

POULTRY HOUSE BULLETIN AVAILABLE

The Northwest Experiment Station has issued a new bulletin bearing the title, "The Northwest Station Poultry House," by A. M. Pilkey, poultryman, and A. M. Foker, head of the Agricultural Engineering department. This publication includes plans for building

NEW SCHOOL

BULLETIN ISSUED

A new school bulletin, covering the period 1936-38, has just been issued and is now available for general distribution. This publication includes general information about the Northwest School, a summary of necessary expenses together with a statement regarding state aid for rural students, school organizations and activities, and a detailed statement of the wide variety of courses offered in agriculture, home economics, home nursing, business training, and leadership. Copies will be forwarded to prospective students upon request.

NEW PIANOS

RECENTLY PURCHASED

Two additional pianos have been added to the equipment of the Northwest School music department. A Steinway upright piano in mahogany finish has been placed in Miss Marian Nelson's piano studio, and a Mason and Hamlin upright, also in mahogany finish, has been assigned to the violin studio for Miss Grace Warne and her violin pupils. Pianos that were formerly in use in these studios will be made available to students who register for private lessons in piano. Last year eighty students registered for private lessons in piano, while over forty students registered for special work in voice and violin.

STATION STAFF

ENJOY PICNIC

Ideal weather, pleasant surroundings, and good fellowship insured the success of the Northwest School and Station staff picnic which was held in the Red Lake Falls city park Friday, June 12. A caravan of cars loaded with the passengers and supplies for the noon-day lunch and outdoor games left the station grounds for the annual holiday promptly at ten o'clock. Activities opened with a variety of games and contests and continued until after the supper hour. In the women's horse-shoe tournament, Mrs. A. J. Sunderland was declared the champion with Miss Marie O'Connell as runner-up. In one of the closest contests of the day, T. M. McCall won similar honors in the men's division with R. J. Christgau a close second. The champions in each case were presented with maroon and gold horseshoes. In the Go-quiet contest, Hannah Dowell won first and Jov Kiser, second, in the women's division; R. S. Dunham ranked first and A. M. Foker second, in the men's section. A surprise was sprung in the kittenball contest when the Brunette team under the leadership of A. M. Foker emerged victorious. In the race for girls 6 years and under, Mary Ellen Clark ranked first and Irene Fontaine, second. Girls 6 and 7: first, Kathleen Christgau; second, Mary Ellen Clark; third, Claire Fontaine. Girls 12 and 13: first, Donna Hillmon; girls 14 and 15: Margaret Dowell and Beatrice Fontaine tied for first place. In the ladies' race, Beth Kiser ranked first; Marie O'Connell second, and Mrs. R. S. Dunham third. Boys 9 to 11: Raymond Hillmon, first; Raymond Dunham, Jr., second, and Larry Fontaine, third. Boys 12 to 14: Wm. Bakken, first, and Joseph Bakken, second. Men's race: first, R. J. Christgau; second, Martin Rud; third, A. M. Pilkey. Other sports included kickball, volleyball, tennis and swimming.

The following committees were in charge: program, R. J. Christgau, H. A. Pflughoeft, A. J. Sunderland, and Miss Margaret Fylling; refreshments, Miss Retta Bede, Mary Thompson, Mesdames H. A. Pflughoeft, R. J. Christgau, and Juel Torvi; general arrangements, T. M. McCall, O. M. Kiser, A. M. Foker, J. W. Mlinar, G. Hillmon, and Retta Bede; transportation, R. S. Dunham, A. M. Pilkey, and A. J. Anderson.

CONTINUE TRAINING

Each year an increasing number of Northwest School graduates enroll at higher educational institutions. This year an unusually large number have continued their educational training, as indicated by the partial list which follows: Students enrolled at the University of Minnesota included Torlief Boe, McIntosh; Stanley Alseth, Fox; Evelyn Bierbaum, Clearbrook; Harold Clow, Orleans; Glenn Ellinger, Crookston; Esther Gibbons, Crookston; Kermit Greenley, Viking; Allan Hoff, Dalton; Margaret Gault, Winnipeg; Emory KenKnight, Clearbrook; Donald McCall, Crookston; Lester Lerud, Twin Valley; Margaret Lerud, Twin Valley; Phinney Stenborg, Clearbrook; William Sitko, Ada; Erling Strand, Twin Valley; Edwin Widseth, McIntosh; Randolph Ostlie, Montevideo; University of North Dakota: Daniel Letnes, Crookston; North Dakota Agricultural College, Fargo: Earl Sulerud, Gary; Concordia College, Moorhead: Oscar Moll-drem, Gary; Paul Thorson, Crookston; St. Olaf College, Northfield: Theos Morck, Crookston; Hamline University, St. Paul: August Thorkelson, Gatzke; University of Michigan: Glenn KenKnight, Clearbrook; Moorhead Teachers College: Rose Naplin, Wylie; Bemidji Teachers College: George Roisum; St. Cloud Teachers College: Gladys Quantock; School of Forestry, Bottineau, N. D.: Philip LeMasurier, Crookston; Minneapolis Institute of Arts: Bud Halvorson, Crookston; Minneapolis Business College: Gladys Lindholm, Baudette; St. Luke's Hospital, Fargo, Nurses' Training: Esther Dalager, Pelican Rapids; Pearl Henry, Crookston; State Hospital Nurses' Training, Fergus Falls: Olive Heegard, Crookston.

SUCCESSFUL WOMEN'S CAMP

More than one hundred women attended the eleventh annual Women's Camp which was held on the campus June 8-11. The four-day session opened with the reunion of former campers, a reception for new members, the election of officers, and a general get-together. Mrs. E. M. Evans, Middle River, was elected president; Mrs. Nils Anderson, Fisher, vice president; Mrs. E. E. Green, Crookston, secretary; Mrs. Emma Wright, Middle River, treasurer, and Mrs. A. F. Stroble, Angus, sergeant-at-arms. Brief addresses by Dr. A. A. Dowell, Registrar J. W. Mlinar, and Miss Retta Bede preceded the business meeting, which included an interesting summary of the 1935 camp by Mrs. E. E. Green and the treasurer's report by Mrs. Emma Wright.

The hunt for the golden horseshoe featured the early morning hours each day during the week. Mrs. Nils Anderson was the lucky finder Tuesday morning. Mrs. Clarence Meyer, Red Lake Falls, Wednesday morning, and Mrs. C. H. Roholdt, Mayville, North Dakota, Thursday morning. According to tradition, good fortune will smile upon these ladies throughout the coming year.

The program as arranged by Miss Retta Bede and J. W. Mlinar proved to be a happy combination of rest, recreation and instruction. Each morning session opened with a "Thought for the Day" followed by special music provided by campus children and Miss Lois Lohn accompanied by Mrs. E. W. Eagle. Mrs. Gus Gustafson, Crookston, presented the Thought for the Day at the opening session; Mrs. George Parr, Arvle, on Wednesday, and Mrs. C. E. Peck, Euclid, on Thursday. Speakers and demonstrators included: Miss Niel Hanson, representing Gold Medal Foods, Minneapolis; Miss Carol Kesler, Minneapolis, representing the Kerr Glass Manufacturing company; Mrs. Sylvia R. Shiras of the State Rehabilitation Division, and Professors T. M. McCall, O. M. Kiser, A. M. Foker and A. M. Pilkey of the Northwest School staff. Other features included the recreational program under the supervision of Coach R. J. Christgau, the daily coffee hour under the direction of Miss Retta Bede assisted by Miss Mary Thompson and her dining hall staff, and special evening entertainments.

At the closing evening session, Registrar J. W. Mlinar presented the official camp "A" to those who were attending their eighth camp, and certifies to the fourth year campers. The eight-year group included Mrs. C. H. Roholdt, Mrs. Louis Osterloh, Angus; Mrs. R. H. McDonald, Goodridge; Mrs. V. C. Noper, Thief River Falls; Mrs. C. E. Edeen, Clearbrook; Mrs. Wm. Story, East Grand Forks, and Mrs. N. P. Stenborg, Clearbrook. The four-year group included Mrs. Emil Larson, Wylie; Mrs. Maud Anderson, East Grand Forks; Mrs. C. E. Hazelton, Beltrami; Mrs. W. J. Geddes, East Grand Forks; Mrs. T. T. Haugo, Mahanomen, and Mrs. E. M. Evans. Mrs. A. E. Lindstrom, Waubun; Mrs. Emma Wright, and Miss Retta Bede have attended each of the eleven camps held to date, while Mrs. E. E. Green and Mrs. Emil Peterson have attended ten of the eleven sessions.

MOST SUCCESSFUL

4-H CLUB WEEK

A total of 903 4-H club members accompanied by county agents, assistant county agents, and county club leaders from fourteen Northwestern Minnesota counties attended the twenty-fifth annual 4-H Club Week held at the Northwest School June 1-6. Based upon attendance, interest in the class and laboratory instruction, and the keen but friendly rivalry in the one-act play, music, athletic, and livestock and farm crops judging contests, this was considered the most successful Club Week ever held on the Aggie campus.

4-H club members from East and West Ottertail, Clay, Becker, Norman, Mahnomen and East and West Polk counties were in attendance the first three days of the week, followed by delegations from Lake of the Woods, Roseau, Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, and Clearwater counties the latter part of the week. This made it possible to offer excellent accommodations in the dormitories, dining hall, auditorium, and class and laboratory buildings.

In the one-act play contest, the Marshall county cast under the direction of Mrs. H. Rosendahl, assisted by county club leader Evelyn Bierbaum and County Agent R. A. Reiersen, won first place on the play, "Say It With Taffy." This cast will represent Northwestern Minnesota at the state contest to be held at the State Fair. East Ottertail county, winner of first place among the Southern Valley counties, placed second in the district with "The Silver Lining," presented under the direction of Mrs. Hazel McLain, county 4-H club leader. Lake of the Woods county ranked second in the northern division on "Mother Has Her Say," while Pennington county was third with "Little Black Sambo." In the southern division, West Ottertail was second with "Balanced Diet," and Clay third with "Grandpa Goes Hunting."

The Clay county triple trio ranked first in the vocal music section and will represent the district at the State contests. Second place was awarded to the Kittson county girls' quartette. The Pennington county girls' trio ranked second in the northern division, with the Clearwater girls' trio third, Roseau mixed trio fourth, and Marshall girls' quintette fifth. In the southern valley division, the Norman county male quartette ranked second, and the East Ottertail cantata third.

The Norman county orchestra won first place in the instrumental division and will represent the district at the State Fair. Second place was awarded the St. Hilaire band from Pennington county.

Winners of the Better Groomed Girl contest were announced as follows: Northern Valley Counties (girls 16 years and over): Elizabeth Delmore, Roseau county, first; Christine Travers, Marshall, second; Irene Bjerkness, Clearwater, third; Mildred Littlejohn, Kittson, fourth; Vivian Bornholdt, Pennington, fifth. (Girls 15 years and under): Margaret Engen, Marshall, first; Jeanne Johnson, Clearwater, second; Beverly Shaly, Pennington, third; Victoria Nelson, Kittson, fourth; Ruth Schultz, Roseau, fifth. Southern Valley counties (girls 16 years and over): Gelena Natvig, Mahnomen, first; Eleanore Ingebretson, Norman, second; Jean Saunders, East Ottertail, third; Myrtle Muhle, Clay, fourth; Hazelle Friestrom, East Polk, fifth. (Girls 15 years and under): Shirley Sands, Clay, first; Arlene Holstrand, East Ottertail, second; Lillian Bowhall, Norman, third; Lorraine Moen, Mahnomen, fourth; Edna Wieberg, East Polk, fifth.

Other county winners were announced as follows: Building Demonstration Teams: Edmund Rydeen and Graydon Postier, Clearwater county, first; Louis DeMaster and Murel Jannsen, Mahnomen, second; Drell Bernhardson and Gerald Pingree, Clay, third; and Robert Curry and Roy Hagen, East Polk, fourth. Safety Demonstration: Frank Putnam, West Ottertail, first, and Ruth Sundberg, Kittson, second. Crops Judging Contest: The Clay county team, composed of Homer Fobes, Willard Westberg, and Maurice Foester, won first place; the West Polk team composed of Dennes Filipi, Daniel Wavra and Morris Maruska, second; and the Mahnomen county team composed of Harold Sanden, Arthur Sanden and Albert Adler, third. Morris Maruska, Angus, West Polk, was the highest ranking individual in this contest with Willard Westby, Clay county, second, and Maurice Koester, Clay, third. General Livestock Judging Contest: The Clearwater county team composed of Kermit Long, Graydon Postier and Edmund Rydeen, won first place; the Clay county team, second; Mahnomen, third, and Marshall fourth. Kermit Long, Clearwater county, was the highest ranking individual in this contest and Gerald Pingree, Clay county, second. Dairy Judging Contest: Mervin Minske, Jack Peterson, and George Gola of Mahnomen county won first place in the dairy cattle judging contest; a team composed of Wallace Erickson, Owen Weckwerth and Leland Lian of Pennington county, second; and Kittson county, third. George Gola, Mahnomen, was the highest ranking individual in this contest, with Ithol Schipper, West Ottertail, second; and Wallace Erickson, Pennington county, third. Athletic Events: Norman county won first in the various athletic events with a total of 565 points; Pennington county, second; Clay county, third; Lake of the Woods, fourth; Kittson, fifth, and Mahnomen, sixth.

The champion crops judging team and the winning building material team were also awarded a trip to the State Fair to enter the State contest. The champion livestock and dairy judging teams were awarded silver cups.

Interest centered around the championship banner which was to be awarded to the county winning the highest total number of points in the one-act play, music, and athletic events. This banner was awarded to Norman county, with a total of 685 points; Pennington county was second, Clay county third and Lake of the Woods county fourth.

Over one hundred local and county club leaders received special instruction in leadership during the week. Speakers included T. A. Erickson, state club leader; Misses Mildred Schenck and May Sontag, assistant club leaders; H. A. Pflughoft, district club agent; Wm. F. Munch, senior game warden, and T. W. Thorson, Crookston public schools music director.

Others who assisted with the various meetings and classroom instruction included Superintendent A. A. Dowell, H. G. Zavoral, livestock specialist; Miss Marguerite Erickson, St. Paul; W. D. Stegner, State Farm Bureau association; T. M. McCall, R. S. Dunham, O. M. Kiser, E. R. Clark, R. J. Christgau, A. M. Foker, A. M. Pilkey, J. W. Mlinar, and Miss Retta Bede, all of the Northwest School staff; County Agents C. G. Ash, Crookston; J. A. Salisbury, Hallock; Ernest Palmer, Red Lake Falls; H. E. Grow, Thief River Falls; J. E. Grathwol, Perham, and county 4-H club leaders.

group included Paul Engelstad, Mrs. Paul Engelstad (Olive Larness), Crookston; Henry Rud, Viking; Ole Flaatt, Fisher; Herman Skyberg, Fisher; Randolph Saugstad, Crookston; Mrs. William Mienert (Clara Linfors), Fosston; Hilder Lindfors, Fosston; Ruby McDonald, Fisher; Ed Hammer, Twin Valley; Oscar J. Lund, Twin Valley; Carl E. Olson, Felton; Victor Younggren, Northcote; William S. Ash, St. Vincent; Mrs. H. M. Femrite (Alma Nettum), together with the class advisers, Professor and Mrs. T. M. McCall. Most interesting letters were read from several members of the class who were unable to return, including Thorval Tunheim, 2034 Bridgen Boulevard, Pasadena, California; Lloyd Stewart, Ogea, Wisconsin; Lester Garceau 5737 W. Lake Street, Minneapolis, Minnesota; Mr. and Mrs. Murray Hales, Falconbridge, Ontario, Canada; and Mrs. Ed. Michmerschuizen, Granite Falls, Minnesota. The '16's had a wonderful day renewing friendships formed on the campus two decades ago.

Other early graduates who registered during the day included Dr. and Mrs. Harry Hedin, '11, East Grand Forks; Carl A. Berg, '12, Thief River Falls; Mrs. Bertha Bjoen Henre, '12, Crookston, and Herman Lee, '13, Erskine. Reunions were also held for the classes of '21, '26 and '31.

At the business meeting, Paul Engelstad was re-elected vice president for a two-year term, and George Roisum, '28, Bagley, was elected treasurer, after Archie Lee, '23, Roseau, asked to be relieved from this office. Harvey Johnson, '29, president, and Evelyn Bierbaum, '29, Warren, secretary, were elected for two-year terms at the 1935 annual meeting. Telegrams from Elsie Mae Kingston, Wayne, Nebraska, and J. W. Mlinar, Minneapolis, were read by Miss Retta Bede and brief addresses were given by Mr. Carl Berg, Thief River Falls, former instructor; Mrs. Cora Paulsberg, former accountant;

Mrs. Olga Nettum Austin, Roseau, former secretary to the superintendent; Professor T. M. McCall and Paul Engelstad, representing the class of '16; Phinney Stenborg, '26, Clearbrook, and Professor R. S. Dunham, '26 class adviser; Clarence Peterson, '31, Hawley; Miss Anne Simley, St. Paul, former head of the English department and now a member of the staff of Hamline University; Edwin Widseth, '32; Coach R. J. Christgau, and Superintendent A. A. Dowell.

President Harvey Johnson presented Mrs. Arthur Scerri (Alma Krogstad, '29) New York City, with a 1936 award for coming the greatest distance. Mr. Darragh Geddes, '14, East Grand Forks, received a similar award as representative of the earliest class present when the awards were made during the evening dance. Mrs. Paul Engelstad, '16, and Mrs. William Mienert, '16, Fosston, shared honors for the largest number of children. Noel Hanson '35, Detroit Lakes, and Alice Johnson, '33, Newfolden, were awarded the traditional red oil can for being the most recently married couple, their wedding having occurred the previous day.

Over four hundred happy graduates and students attended the dance in the Physical Education building, which had been beautifully decorated by a committee composed of Raymond Higgin, Crookston; Philip Hegreberg, Crookston; Woodrow Evans, Crookston; Arnold Grove, Crookston; Leo Jensen, Crookston; Oray Tangen, Crookston; Werner Weindorf, Crookston; Henry Becker, Crookston; Hilbert Thompson, Crookston, and Ivan Larson, Crookston, assisted by Miss Retta Bede. It was agreed that the 1936 Reunion was the most successful event of this kind ever held on the Aggie campus.

POULTRY HOUSE

BULLETIN AVAILABLE

a straw-loft, cotton front poultry house, wall nest type, reel type dry mash feeder, water stand, and poultry catching crate.

In the introduction, the authors state: "Poultry houses need not be elaborate, but should be constructed to make the fowls comfortable every month of the year. In a climate such as prevails in the northwestern part of Minnesota, where there may be 125 degrees variation between extremes of heat and cold, it looks like a big problem to construct a house that will give ideal conditions throughout the year. It is, however, a comparatively easy matter if the general principles of poultry house construction are borne in mind."

Copies of this timely bulletin may be obtained by writing the Northwest Experiment Station.

TIMELY HINTS TO

POULTRY RAISERS

Many common poultry diseases and parasites may be controlled or held in check by moving the growing chicks to a new range each year. According to A. M. Pilkey, Northwest School and Station poultryman, infested soil should be plowed and cropped for at least three years before it is again used as a poultry range. The colony houses should be thoroughly cleaned before they are moved to the clean range. The latter should be well drained and seeded to some appropriate green crop, such as alfalfa.

Mr. Pilkey emphasizes the importance of providing ample floor space in the brooder to prevent overcrowding. For young chicks, one square foot of floor space for three chicks will be sufficient, and not over 300 chicks should be kept under one brooder. At four weeks of age, the cockerels should be removed and roosting space should be doubled for the pullets by the time they are six weeks old. At ten weeks of age, the space should again be doubled. Pullets will do better if divided into flocks of from one to three hundred birds each than if allowed to range in large numbers. One acre will supply sufficient forage for about 300 pullets.

JOE RIVER CLUB VISITS STATION

The Joe River Farmers' Club of St. Vincent, Kittson county, visited the Northwest School and Station on June 18. Following the picnic dinner, the afternoon was devoted to an inspection of the school buildings and grounds and the station experimental work. The work of the agronomy department was explained by R. S. Dunham; horticulture, T. M. McCall, and poultry, A. M. Pilkey. A special program and inspection tour was arranged for the women by Miss Retta Bede. The delegation was headed by Lawrence Ward, president, special '31, and Mr. Pete Webster, treasurer. Members of the party included William Ash, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ash (William '16), Swan Anderson, Alvin Brown, Mrs. Howard Cox, Emery Finney, Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzpatrick, Harold Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Webster and family, Pete Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ward, Willis Ward and Eugene Ward. The group remained for a picnic supper on the campus before starting on the homeward journey.

MISSES LANE AND NELSON IN PIANO RECITAL

Miss Constance Lane, piano instructor from 1933 to 1935, and Miss Marian Nelson, piano instructor since 1935, were presented by the University of Minnesota Summer Session in a program for two pianos in the music auditorium at the University on June 17. The program was attended by J. W. Mlinar, Miss Grace Warne, and Miss Katherine Hennig of the Northwest School staff, and former instructors Mrs. Cynthia Haugland and Mr. D. C. McGenty.
