Alumni Reunion A Success

The 1948 reunion of alumni at the Northwest School held on June 26 was declared a success with 250 alumni and former students in attendance. Three members of the class of 1909, the first class to graduate at the school, were present for the occasion. Mollie Fosbakken '09 of Redlands, California, received the prize for travelling the greatest distance to attend reunion; Eldor Peterson of Tacoma, Washington, and Delsie Filipi Letor of Charleston, South Carolina, were the runners-up in the distance travelled. Mr. and Mrs. Marlowe Moe (Katherine Beard), newlyweds of June 13, received "the little red oil can" award and other prizes for the latest wed alumni; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Peterson of Angus received the prize for the largest family, four children.

At the business meeting of the Alumni Association, two new officers were elected for two-year terms. William Geddes of East Grand Forks was elected vice-president and Reuben Hanson of Trail was elected treasurer. Officers whose terms expire in 1949 are Darwin Ferrier of Pitt, president, and Howard Brandt of Gonvick, secretary. Wilson Radway of Baudette served as temporary secretary for the meeting. The Association authorized the purchase and installation of a bronze plaque on the present memorial monument at the school in memory of the alumni and former students who gave their lives in World War II. President Ferrier appointed a local committee of alumni to serve on the memorial committee and this to include Kenneth Albertson, chairman; Elmer Ross, Harry Fink, and Lester McGregor with Superintendent T. M. McCall as an ex-officio member.

Early classes represented at the reunion included 1909, 1911, 1914, 1916, 1923, and 1927 with five members of the class of 1938 present for their reunion with larger representations from each of the later classes.

The Roy Larson orchestra of Ada furnished music for the alumni dance which was held in the evening.

Alumni Vote To Purchase Memorial Plaque

The Northwest School alumni, at their meeting held on June 26, unanimously approved the report of the committee on a memorial for veterans of World War II. The committee recommended that a memorial plaque, with the names of the fourteen veterans lost in World War II, be placed on the present memorial monument on the school campus which was erected in memory of veterans of World War I.

At the meeting, sketches of the monument and plaque, prepared by A. M. Foker, were approved. Superintendent T. M. McCall reported for the committee that a bronze company had submitted a bid on a plaque which would cost between $225 and $300. Darwin Ferrier, president of the Association, appointed a committee of alumni from the Crookston community to arrange for financing and installing the plaque. The committee consists of Kenneth Albertson, chairman; Elmer Ross, Harry Fink, and Lester McGregor with Superintendent T. M. McCall as consulting member.

The alumni voted to accept donations of one dollar or more from alumni and friends of the school for the memorial plaque. Reuben Hanson, newly-elected treasurer of the Northwest School Alumni Association, reported his collection of memberships and memorial contributions amounted to $65.00 at the alumni reunion. Detailed plans for the financing of the memorial plaque will be announced by the Memorial Committee soon. In the meantime, contributions for the memorial can be mailed to Memorial Committee, c/o Superintendent T. M. McCall, Northwest School, Crookston.

Fall Term Opens September 27

Plans are now complete for the opening of the fall term at the Northwest School on September 27. It will be necessary to find rooming places in Crookston again for boys; however, a number more of girls can be accommodated in the girls' dormitories. All faculty positions are now filled.

Prospective students should write to the Northwest School regarding dormitory accommodations.

Large Attendance At Weed Control Day Held July 12

The Weed Control Demonstration Day held at the Northwest School and Station on July 12 attracted more than 900 farmers to the meetings and tours.

The spraying demonstrations for the control of mustard and broad-leaved weeds and the day's program were conducted as a cooperative project between the Northwest School and Station, the Central Experiment Station, St. Paul, and The Farmer Magazine of St. Paul. Dealers in spraying equipment and spray chemicals cooperated with the Experiment Station by exhibiting their products, and the Severson School of Aviation at Crookston demonstrated airplane dusting and liquid spraying of field crops and the dusting of crops with a helicopter. The more than twenty exhibitors of spraying machinery made up the largest display of weed control machinery ever assembled in the region.

Speakers on the program were T. H. Fenske, associate director of field operations, University Farm, St. Paul; Wm. Kircher of The Farmer Magazine, St. Paul; Professor R. S. Dunham of the Division of Agronomy and Plant Genetics, University Farm, St. Paul, and O. C. Soine, agronomist, and Superintendent T. M. McCall of the Northwest School and Station. R. S. Dunham reviewed the work done by the Experiment Station with the 2-4-D formulations and other herbicides. O. C. Soine conducted the tours through the demonstration plots. The different rates of application of the 2-4-D formulations, both as pre-emergence and post-emergence, on wheat and flax gave very striking results. General conclusions of the results will be made known after the harvest of the crops.

District Flower Show Dates Announced

Three District Flower Shows are scheduled in the Red River Valley. The flower shows sponsored by the Ninth District Horticultural Society of Minnesota, the local garden clubs, and the Red River Valley Development Association will be held at Hawley, August 10; Crookston, August 11; and Warroad, August 12.

Arrangements for the three district shows were completed at a meeting at Crookston on July 12, by the officers and representatives of the garden clubs of the towns where the shows are to be held.

The members of garden clubs of the Ninth District are requested by Mrs. Andrew Hanson of Stephen, president, to exhibit their flowers at their nearest Show. The local garden clubs having district shows this year are planning combined shows with local prizes for club members in addition to the district premium ribbons.

Veterans Taught Sheep Shearing

More than one hundred farmers attended the sheep shearing school held on June 10 at the Northwest School and Station. Ed Werner, instructor and professional shearer from the Stewart Flexible Shaft Company of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, conducted the shearing classes. He was assisted by C. A. Anderson, veterans' training supervisor of International Falls, and Oscar S. Larson, veterans' training officer of Grand Forks, North Dakota.

A small flock of yearling ewes of the Northwest School and Station flock of Shropshire sheep was used in the sheep shearing school. A large number of veterans who are enrolled in the On-the-Farm Training Program and other farmers received firsthand instruction in sheep shearing. Veterans enrolled in On-the-Farm Training classes from Warren, Fosston, McIntosh, Fertile, and Northwest School attended the one-day school.

Staff members of the Northwest School who assisted with the classes were O. M. Kiser, T. M. Pulkrabek, and Wm. Barron.

Crops Men Attend Field Day On July 15

More than 600 farmers gathered at the Northwest School and Station for the annual Crops and Soils Day on July 15. The program for the day started at 11:00 A. M. with a tour of the swine breeding range with O. M. Kiser and H. D. Fausch as leaders. Some 200 farmers saw the progress of the work in the breeding of the new Minnesota No. 2 swine.

The annual business meeting of the officers and directors of the Red River Valley Crops and Soils Association was held at 11:00 A. M. A large number of families enjoyed picnic lunches on the campus during the noon hour. Free coffee and cream was served for the noonday picnic lunch with Miss Retta Bede in charge.

A light shower of rain interfered with the effectiveness of the field tour in the afternoon; however, the tour of the fields proceeded as scheduled under the direction of O. C. Soine, agronomist, and B. C. Beresford, horticulturist. Following the tour of the field plots, the crops men gathered in the school auditorium for the open forum discussion of crops problems. Superintendent T. M. McCall presided at the open forum. Men taking part in the forum discussion were T. H. Fenske, associate director of field operations, Drs. Jean Lambert and H. Thomas of the Division of Agronomy and Plant Genetics, Drs. J. J. Christensen and Carl J. Eide of the Division of Plant Pathology and Botany, O. C. Turnquist of the Division of Horticulture, and R. C. Rose, extension pathologist, all of University Farm, St. Paul, and J. O. Culbertson, flax specialist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.
